Harr was westbound on Edwardsville Road at about 4 p.m. Thursday when an eastbound tractor-trailer truck owned by Ranger Transportation Co. of Jacksonville, Fla., driven by Donald Gilbert Sr. of Hanahan, S.C., jack-knifed, crossed into Harr's traffic lane, and struck Harr's 1994 Oldsmobile Delta Koyale head-on.

Gilbert told police he was westbound in the inside lane when a car in front of him stopped to turn-left (north) on 21st Street. Gilbert applied his brakes, which locked up and caused the truck to skip along the road and then jack-knife into oncoming traffic.

Harr was trapped inside the vehicle.

Rate hikes hurt bond investors

The bond market has been in turmoil recently. Rising interest rates have turned the market to the negative this year, after several years of good performance. For the sixth time this year, on Nov. 15, the Pederal Reserve rules the three trates, and this time is was a three quarter of one point increase.

When interest rates rise, new bonds come out paying higher yields to maturity. So, you are left holding bonds that are not as attractive. If you need to sell your bond, or your bond mutual fund, it must be discounted to accommodate the lower yield it

Tips for December

A few chores that still need to be taken care of ow that holiday activities are in full swing, it's quite casy to overlook many little odd jobs that need to be tended to. And the landscape usually is one of them. After all, who thinks about gardening now?

We don't expect you to dive headfirst into a major gardening project, but there are a few odds and ends that still need looking after, and won't take too much time. Here are a few ways to put what little daylight we have to good use.

Broadleaf evergreens, especially those in exposed areas, are ideal candidates for winter burn. They fall victim to drying winds and their root systems can replace from the frozen soil. The foliage can be coated with an anti-desiccant spray, which coats it with an agent that retards moisture loss. Broadleaf evergreens. that retards moisture loss, while still allowing foliage to breathe.

Try to avoid walking on your lawn as much as possible. If you must walk on it, at least try to vary your path slightly. Repeated hikes over the same area will wear it down.

After each heavy snowfall, tramp down snow around young fruit trees. This will compact it and make it more difficult for mice to tunnel through to gain access to the bark.

Another post-snowfall activity besides hauling out the shovel or snow blower is shaking off the evergreens. A heavy accumulation of snow can bend and/or break branches. It's easiest to get rid of the snow while it's still fluffy.

A salt-free diet is in order. For your lawn, that is. While salt is an excellent ice-melter it does a number on your lawn and plants. There are a number of alternate ice-melting products available that won't harm vegetation.

If you've started feeding the birds, don't neglect this task. They've become accustomed to your feeder by now, and may not be able to find an alternate source fast enough. It only takes a few minutes to fill the feeder and keep 'em happy and healthy.

When you look outside and see barren shade and ornamental trees, it may be a little depressing But look at it this way. Weather-damaged branches are very easy to spot and remove. After removal, generously coat the cut with pruning paint.

When the ground becomes stiffened with frost, mulch stiffened with frost, mulch heavily under evergreens, especially broadleaf varieties. The soil will retain more moisture and frost will not penetrate as deeply. Consequently, roots will be better able to supply foliage with moisture during mild winter spells of warmer temperatures.

Next time it rains, or the snow melts, check for water runoff that drips from eaves onto landscape plants. If any is dripping, the problem should be corrected, since the water will eventually coat plants with a layer of damaging ice.

If you have any leaf piles, they should be removed, since they may pack down and freeze, which can smother plants.

Check any stakes and guy wires on newly planted trees to make sure they're properly positioned.

That's about it as far as outdoor gardening activities go. It's December, and some apropos items will appear on Wednesday.

ing concerning their added duties," Becker said.

But Simon said that he was not too worried about the pumps.

"Those gas tanks are buried deep in the ground. I've never seen one explode yet," he said.

"Only one minor injury — a man who suffered second degree burns to his forehead and hand — was reported.
In addition to gutting the building, several cars at the service station were damaged by heat.

The Warriors open the Southwestern Conference season.

Next Sunday

Triad trips up Warriors 67-54

Granite City dug itself a deep hole Fri-day night and couldn't quite crawl out of it as the Triad Knights opened their sea-son with a 67-54 victory over the Warriors.

Granite City came out flat in the first quarter, when the Knights took a 20-5 lead, but it was the Warriors who outscored Triad 20-8 in the final period to make the game respectable.

Granite City (0-2) missed its first seven shots, and Triad led 15-0 at one point in the first quarter. The Warriors were 20 of $9 (34 percent) from the field in, the game.

Meanwhile, the Knights (1-0) made six of their 11 3-point attempts and shot 11 of

GCHS COACH John Van Buskirk had no explanation for his team's slow start.

"I don't know why they came out flat," he said. "We tried to not let that happen, but he said to be seen to be said to be seen to be s

"TRIAD IS A pretty good team," Van Buskirk said. "When they start hitting those 3s, it's easy to get down a little bit."

tionse 3s, it's easy to get down a little bit."

"Sty we did a good job of handling the Mail." Mason said. "It wasn't just one litt, we had several who did a good job of passing and moving without the ball."

Triad had, just 10 turnovers on the night, while GCHS was guilty of 15.

Jay Simpson led the Warriors with 14 points, and Wayne Myers added 12 points and seven rebounds. Kyle Briggs added nid points among the points are more than the points are for the points

A big plus for the Warriors was the play of sophomore Ray Smith, who came off the bench and scored seven points, grabbed a team-high eight rebounds and made three steals.

Senators streak

With a young starting five getting their first taste of the varsity level, the Warrior basketbalty level, the Warrior basketbalty level, the Warrior basketbalty level, the Warrior be a learning experience.

But experience is just what the Warriors were looking for as they got the season under way against the Senators, who defeated GCHS 58-47 in the first game.

Springfield jumped out to a 23-6 lead in the first quarter and never looked back in posting the victory. The Warriors got off to a sluggish start offensively and could not keep up with the quicker Senators.

Lions roar into OT, edge Trojans 49-47

University City outlasts Madison for tourney title

Henry Jones and the Universi-ty City Lions finished what they started in regulation by outbatti-ing Madison in overtime with a hard-fought 49-47 victory in Fri-day night's University City Round Robin Tournament.

Madison 75 in the four-minute extra period to wrap up the championship in its own tournament.

Two free throws by Madison's Tony Smith with 27 seconds left in regulation made it 42-39 and appeared to clinch the victory for the Trojans, but the Lions worked for a final shot and freed up Jones on the left baseline.

Jones, who had hit a 3-pointer less than one minute earlier to cut Madison's lead to 40-39; con-nected again to keep the Lions alive.

MADISON TOOK CONTROL once again at the start of the overtime period when Eddie Thomas drilled a 3-pointer to make it 45-42. But a free through y Aaron Frison and another key basket by Jones tied the score at 45, and the Lions took the lead on a jumper by Lang-ford Love with 58 seconds left.

The Trojans came back to tie the score on a clutch jumper by Milan Jones following a free-throw miss by Love Jones' shot tied it at 47 with 24 seconds left.

Centralia races past sluggish Collinsville 75-56

By David Wilhelm Staff writer

Bob Bone could see it coming from a mile away.

The state of the state

THE KAHOKS looked uncom-fortable facing the Orphans at Arthur Trout Gymnasium, and the final score certainly reflected it. They fell behind in the first quarter and never came close to recovering, sluggishly falling 75-56.

"You've got to give (Centralia) a lot of credit," Bone said. "They played well at the bottom line. Every now and then you get your butts kicked, and we got it tonight.

"The way layed and the men in the special of the special of showed. We had a terrible week of practice. We didn't get anything done all week and we didn't get anything done tonight. We played like we practiced, so we had some consistency this week."

IT'S NOT THE type of consistency Bone wants to see from the Kahoks (1-1). Everything he feared about the Orphans—especially their quickness unfolded right in front of him. And at times, it was ugly. Col-linsville trailed by as many as 23 points (65-42) midway through the fourth quarter.

"They could have beat us as bad as they wanted." Bone said.

After taking a short-lived 4-1 first-quarter lead on consecutive basket by the pay payinroy, the Outper of the paying payinroy the paying by the paying payinroy the paying by Hector Barnes tied the game, and another Barnes basket made it 6-4. After Cory Garcia naswered to again knot the score, Ivan McPhall scored on a layup to make it 8-6. Centralia (2-0) led from that point.

SENIOR COREY Dagley and Rickey Garrett were the main reasons for the Kahoks' woes. Dagley hit five three-pointers and finished with 19 points, while Garrett made eight of nine shots from the field and 12 of 14 me the point of the field and 12 of 14 me the points of the points. Barnes contributed 11 points.

"They just outplayed us, outhustled us and outworked us in every facet of the game," Bone said. "There was nothing we did better than thom."

Warrior skaters shut out Spartans, up mark to 4-0-1

THE GAME WAS the second meeting between the two teams this season. Last month, the Warriors defeated the Spartans 8-2 in an exhibition game. Granite City coach Dave Yurkovich said Monday's game was a bit closer, but the Warriors contains the season of the warriors contains the season of the warriors contains the warriors of th

THE STARTING LINEUP consisted of Simpson, Myers, Yaughn, Briggs and senior forward Keith Simon, Jason Peach, a 6-5 senior forward, came off the bench to score six points. Dana Anderson, a senior guard, rounded out a seven-playrotation set by the Warriors. While Myers and Simpson saw the most senson, all five of Granite City's statters and the reserves were making their first extended appearances on the varsity level Tuesday.

"There were some positive things we saw, but not anything we did for an entire game and that's what we're striving for," Van Buskirk said. "We're not happy with the way we played and we're going to try to improve on that."

The Warriors have started from scratch after losing their entire six-man rotation to graduation last year, including top scorers Larren Mosby and Jason Black. The two guards led Granite City to a 15-12 record and a second-place finish in the South-western Conference.

BECAUSE OF THE presence of Mosby and Black and a lack of height last season, the Warriors rans three-guard offense. But this year's team features more size underneath the base of the state of the stat winner.

It was a tough loss for the two was a tough loss for the two who appeared to lose the momentum after Henry Jones' 3-point basket in regulation.

"We should have had it," Madison coach Al Collins said. "He should have had somebody on him. After that happened, I thought we were going to get blown out (in overtime).

"That inexperience and youth properties of the should have had somebody on him. After that happened, I thought we were going to get blown out (in overtime).
